David Loy, PhD, is a national and international lecturer, workshop leader, Zen teacher, and author of “Ecodharma: Buddhist Teachings for the Ecological Crisis”, among other books. His work focuses primarily on the relationship between personal and social transformation, emphasizing social justice and ecological issues, and what the bodhisattva path means today. See: www.davidloy.org

Friday April 17, 7-9 pm:
Public Talk “Personal Transformation/Social Transformation in a Time of Eco-Crisis”. For all who care about the earth and seek a sustaining resilience. Sponsored by Climate Sangha of the Sacramento Dharma Center and Sacramento Insight Meditation.
Donations appreciated.

Saturday and Sunday, April 18-19, 9am-4pm:
Sponsored by Sacramento Buddhist Meditation Group and Valley Streams Zen Sangha. (501c3 organizations); donations are tax-deductible.
(No one will be turned away for lack of funds.)

Sunday April 19, 6:30-8:30 pm:
Meditation and Dharma Talk, with further reflection on issues explored during Ecodharma retreat, sponsored by Sacramento Buddhist Meditation Group.
Donations appreciated.

Monday April 20, 7-9pm:
Meditation and Dharma Talk on Zen, sponsored by Valley Streams Zen Sangha.
Donations appreciated.

For further information; contact helen.sbm@gmail.com